View from the Chair: Welcoming our new Chief Executive and getting on with delivering our priorities

Our Chair, Lord Toby Harris welcomes Tom Whiting, talks about data about dental professionals' working patterns and talks about the GDC’s priorities and the impact of the general election.

Tom Whiting joins the GDC as Chief Executive Officer and Registrar

Tom Whiting has now joined the GDC as our Chief Executive Officer and Registrar. In his first month, Tom will meet Chief Dental Officers from the four nations and dental leaders. He will also start a series of visits to meet dental teams in different settings across the UK.

Tom Whiting said:

“I understand the pressures that the dental sector is under and the hard work of the whole dental team to ensure that patients have the care they need.

“Trust between professionals and the regulator is important for patients and public confidence. I will listen to the views and challenges of dental professionals and stakeholders as well as get to know where and how they work.

“Building my own understanding will help me to identify shared goals and how we can work together to make a positive difference to dental professionals and patients. This will take time, but I’m committed to making a start right away.”

Tom joins from the Independent Office for Police Conduct, where he was Acting Director General for 17 months, having been Deputy Director General since 2019.
Annual renewal for dental care professionals opens 10 June

The annual renewal period for dental care professionals (DCPs) opens on 10 June.

DCPs will need to:

- Pay their Annual Retention Fee (ARF) by 31 July.
- Make sure they have indemnity cover in place.
- Complete their minimum number of CPD hours.
- Make a CPD statement by 28 August.

DCPs in the last year of their CPD cycle can apply for a grace period before 31 July if they need more time to complete their CPD. If accepted, they'll have an extra eight weeks to complete their hours.

This year we are also asking DCPs to answer a short survey on how and where they work, and how many hours they work each week. The survey is available on eGDC when completing renewal.

We asked dentists the same questions as part of their renewal last year, and released the survey results in March. Responses to these surveys will improve the sectors understanding of dental professionals' working patterns.

Equality, diversity and inclusion (EDI) strategy for 2024-2025

We have reviewed and updated our EDI strategy for 2024-2025, setting out our ambitions and objectives for the next two years. We have a significant role in promoting EDI and identifying and tackling discrimination and inequality through our regulatory functions.

Find out more about our EDI objectives and approach on our website.

Additional dental workforce pattern data

At the end of May, we released some additional data as part of the dentists working patterns survey. The data provides location-based information on the proportion of dentists who are providing NHS care, private care or both, and how much time they spent working in clinical or non-clinical roles.

- The number of new fitness to practise concerns received increased slightly from 1,264 in 2022 year to 1,297 (2.5%) in 2023.
- There was a drop in the number of cases referred to a practice committee, with 132 cases referred to the Dental Professionals Hearings Service in 2023 compared to 156 the year before.

Our response to proposals about provisional registration

Our response to the Department of Health and Social Care on proposals to amend legislation to provide for provisional registration for overseas-qualified dentists was published on 16 May. While welcoming the proposals, we also set out a number of suggestions for amendments to the draft legislation to ensure that provisional registration can work safety, effectively and sustainably.

You can find out more about our response to the consultation on our website.
Tendering for the Overseas Registration Examination (ORE) opened in May

Tendering for provision of the ORE Part 1 and Part 2 for the next five years opened in May, immediately following an early market engagement exercise carried out from February to April. We are looking to improve access to the ORE, which is for internationally qualified dentists who want to work in the UK but whose qualifications are not recognised for the purposes of registration.

This will be the first procurement for the ORE since legislative changes removed financial and supplier constraints. We want to work with suppliers to improve flexibility and capacity, while ensuring that the ORE remains a robust assessment of skills and knowledge.

We are working to ensure new contracts are in place in early 2025.
