

Candidates have been sent their individual marks by email.

From August 2026. Each paper undergoes a standard-setting process which considers the characteristics and difficulty of the questions included in that examination. This ensures candidates are assessed against the required standard, rather than a fixed percentage of correct answers.

The pass mark can therefore vary between papers and examination sittings. Candidates are not informed of the numerical pass mark in advance, as this is determined through the standard-setting process for each sitting.

The minimum percentage scores to pass this exam were:

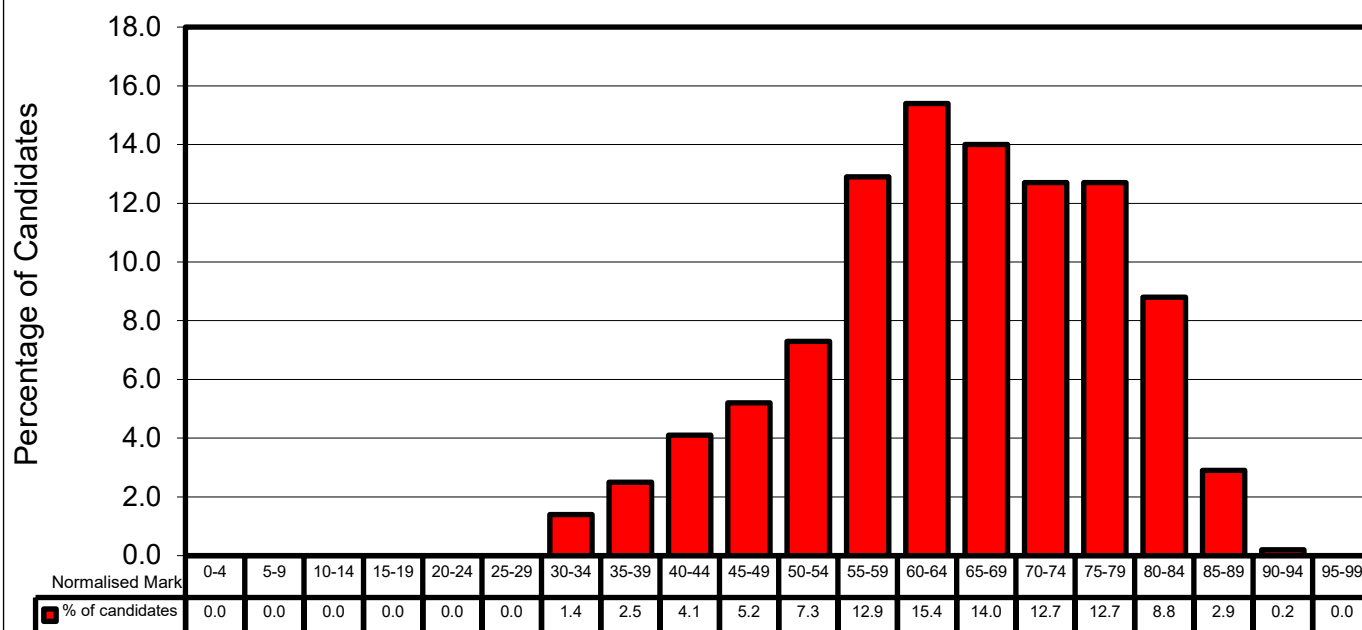

Part 1 A: 50.5%

Part 1 B: 54.3%

The table below shows the percentage of candidates passing each part of the examination:

Examination Part	Pass Rate (%)
Part 1(a)	85.7
Part 1(b)	85.7
Part 1(a) & 1(b)	81.2
